

Our Hair for Our Hike!

Give these women a $500,000 hair cut!

Our Hike may be rounding into its last few days, but the staff of Aplastic Anemia & MDS International Foundation is willing to keep the fundraising effort going until December 31, 2006.

If Our Hike hits $500,000 by December 31, 2006, these wonderful wacky women are willing to shave their heads! That's right - SHAVE THEIR HEADS! So get out there and start raising those dollars!

Robin Grapa, a 27 year old young woman diagnosed with bone marrow disease and now in complete remission, and her mom, Patty Laatsch, began Our Hike February 4, 2006 in Delaware. Since then, they've hiked in all kinds of conditions, through all sorts of towns along the American Discovery Trail - raising awareness and money for the many patients and families suffering from this rare and often deadly disease.

As of the mid-October, Our Hike has raised $106,166!

Make these women shave their heads! Help get corporate sponsors, help get national media coverage which will generate donations, AND DONATE NOW!
